The author refers to all the decisions contained in the English and American Reports—as well as to many unpublished decisions—and has covered the whole subject of LIFE INSURANCE LAW in a manner which will satisfy the profession. BLISS ON LIFE INSURANCE is issued in a handsome volume, of nearly 800 pages, printed in the best style, on thick paper, bound in the best law sheep. Price, $7.50. For Example: To know what day of the week July 4 will be in the year 1872, it being a leap-year, look in the table of leap-years for 1872, and in a parallel line under July is figure 1, which directs to column 1, in which it will be seen that July 4 will fall on Thursday.

"No expectation of forbearance or indulgence should be encouraged. Favor and benevolence are not the attributes of good banking. Strict justice, and the rigid performance of contracts, are its proper foundation."

"The revenue of the State is THE STATE; in effect, all depends upon it, whether for support or for reformation."

"Rightfully considered, no principle is more conservative than that which identifies the laborer with the capitalist."

Labor.—"Of all non-theological things, labor is the most sacred; of all non-ethical things, labor is the most moral. The working habit—the most homely ability of laboring fairly and honestly for one's bread—is of more value to a country, when diffused among its people, than all the other gifts—be they hills of gold or rocks of diamonds—that can possibly fall to its share; and if its people, or any very considerable part of them, possess not that habit and ability, it matters not what else it may possess; there is an element of weakness in its constitution for which no amount of even right principle among them will ever form an adequate compensation."—Hugh Miller.

REVOLUTIONS.—"Was there ever an age of the world like the present! The painted scenes in a theatre do not shift before the eyes of the spectators more suddenly, or apparently more on that principle of strong contrast, on which the poet and the artist rely for their most striking effects, than dynasties and forms of government in the times in which we live."—HUGH MILLER.

"Never lacked gold and yet never went gay."

THE PILGRIM FATHERS.—"The spirit of the Pilgrims has been a resistless moral power in the history of the western world. It has given birth to new forms of thought, new expressions of speech, new principles of philosophy, new maxims and examples of social economy, new phases of domestic life. It has completed the only perfect example of a State where freedom, equality, and opportunity are the common heritage of all. It has established a government so strong that no European power dare lightly rouse its antagonism."—Westminster Review, Oct., 1871.

THE STRIDES OF SCIENCE.—"The revolutionary relations of modern science to ordinary labor are recognized. We are grown proud of machines. A grotesque wonder at the marvellous mechanicalization of industrial operations is the newest of human passions. After a struggle, we have finally yielded to it, and now we are ready blindly to believe anything of iron and steam. Machinery plays the part of a transformed sophisticated fairy in modern life, giving to manufactures their one touch of romance. * * * Optics is disclosing to us the interior secrets of iridescence; crystallography is giving us some knowledge of mineral processes; physiology, vegetable and animal, is supplying a faint perception of modes of growth."—Westminster Review, October, 1871.

SHAKSPEARE.—"Morning and night meet, as in Nature, in the poet's writings—the comic and the tragic. In the full flush and luxuriance of his powers he rises upon us, bright, lively, and jocund as the dawn; we know not where he will lead us in the abundance of his poetical caprice, what stores of mirth and wanton wiles, what brilliant and ever-changing hues will sparkle, dazzle, and allure us in his ambrosial course. But that bright morning—unlike the morning of many of the poet's cotemporaries—goes down in a solemn and glorious sunset, canopied with clouds of gold and purple."—London Quarterly, July, 1871.

France in 1871.—“No sovereign, no allegiance to the ruler or to the law, no undisputed authority in the representation of the people, no certain peace between the regular and the civic forces of the country, and a chaotic state of society, in which the evils of foreign occupation, and the burden of an enormous tribute to a victorious enemy, are almost forgotten in comparison with the internal calamities of France.”—Edinburgh Review, July, 1871.

LIBERTY.—"The Pilgrim Fathers were conspicuous, above all, for their love of abstract liberty. That was the grand impulse which moved them westward. They saw at home a fettered church and a tongue-tied nation. They saw in America a free church and a free people. They felt, at home, bound to rules of action against which their conscience revolted, and dogged at every turn by the barriers of prescription, or the mandates of the despot. They knew that, in that far western land, conscience would spurn all bonds, and that action might defy all noxious rules."—Westminster Review, October, 1871.

The Future of France.—"The moment is approaching—perhaps it is come—when a great creative genius might construct in France a system of government on entirely new principles, or rather on old principles revived, and entirely opposed to the revolutionary centralization of the last eighty years; but the whole edifice must be built up from the foundation; and the strength of the base is of more importance than the form of its architecture or the name of the superstructure. But who is equal to so great an enterprise?"—Edinburgh Review, July, 1871.

Music.—" Like a good physician, like a tender friend, music comes to the aid of all classes, a gentle minister of consolation—sweeping clear the sky and showing the blue beyond, making grief bearable and loss tolerable. Music soothes the fever heat of the sick man, and ministers strangely to the disordered mind when other remedies fail; it enables the soldier to accomplish forced marches and to fight battles at the end of them; it draws the bands of social and family life more closely together; it recreates the wearied professional man; it kindles new fervor in the sluggish soul; and is, moreover, ready to bear on high the inarticulate aspirations of many a toiling and careworn spirit."—London Quarterly, July, 1871.

The Tree Law of New York.—"Any inhabitant liable to highway tax, who shall transplant by the side of the public highway any forest shade trees or fruit trees, of suitable size, shall be allowed by the overseers of highways, in abatement of his highway tax, one dollar for every four trees set out; but no row of elms shall be placed nearer than seventy feet; no row of maples or other forest trees nearer than fifty feet, except locust, which may be set thirty feet apart; fruit trees must also be set at least fifty feet apart; and no allowance, as before mentioned, shall be made unless such trees shall have been set out the year previous to the demand for said abatement of tax, and are living and well protected from animals at the time of such demand."

The changes in the bank dividends this six months are more numerous than for some time previously. The Maverick resumes after passing one dividend, and now pays 5 per cent. The Continental increases from 4 to 4½ per cent., Mechanics 5 to 5½, and the Shawmut returns from 4½ to 5 per cent. after having made the former rate once only. The Atlas reduces from 5 to 4 per cent., Eagle 5 to 4, Washington 6 to 5, Old Boston 6 to 5, Massachusetts 5 to 4, and Revere 4 to 3½ per cent ; the latter three, however, pay the State and city tax in addition to the dividend, so that, to the shareholder, it is an actual increase. Of the fifty banks, in the table, one pays 7 per cent., eight 6 per cent., one 5½ per cent., twenty-two 5 per cent., two 4½ per cent., one 3½ per cent., and one the new Commonwealth, which commenced business June 1. This makes an average dividend of 4.78 per cent.

By an Act of the last legislature all shares of stock in banks in Massachusetts are taxable in the town or city where located, whether the owner is a resident there or not, and the tax constitutes a lien on the shares. The law makes it " the duty of every such bank and managing officers thereof, to retain so much of any dividend or dividends belonging to such shareholders, as shall be necessary to pay any tax assessed in pursuance of this Act, until it shall be made to appear to such officers that such taxes have been paid." Under this law the assessors will furnish bills for each stockholder to the banks, and leave it for them to collect the same, unless they decide to pay the tax entire; charging the amount to profit and loss. The six following banks have taken the latter course, and their dividends are made free of all city, State or National taxes : Old Boston, Globe, Massachusetts, People's, Revere and State. Other banks pay free of government tax only.

It is claimed by the tax commissioners that more than one-third of the taxable value of bank shares in Massachusetts has heretofore escaped local taxation, and the following figures are given to prove it :—

The aggregate valuation is		$104,000,067
Less owned by savings banks	$16,098,963
Insurance companies	8,032,559
Benevolent institutions, &c	1,479,405
Business corporations	533,409
Non-residents	11,082,009
		37,226,345
Amount which should be taxed		$66,773,722
Amount actually assessed		41,216,598
Escaping taxation		$25,557,124

And the tax on this amount, at the average rate of last year (1.55 per cent.) would be $383,356 86, or about one-fiftieth of the whole amount raised in the State by local taxation.

NARROW GAUGE.—The first narrow-gauge railway for passenger travel and freight, constructed on this continent, has been opened and declared successful. The road is known as the "Denver and Rio Grande," and is now built between Denver and Colorado City, a distance of seventy-six miles. It has a three-foot track, the rails weighing only thirty pounds to the yard; and the maximum curvature is six degrees to the hundred feet, the maximum grade being seventy-five feet to the mile. The passenger-engines weigh twelve tons, and cost only $7500, and the freight-engines fifteen tons, costing $8500. Expense per mile of building, as equipped, is $13,500, which, on account of high transportation charges of material from the East, is greater than the cost of a similar road would be in this part of the country. The estimated cash cost of such a line here is from $8000 to $10,000 per mile.

NARROW-GAUGE RAILROADS.—The following railways are in progress with a gauge of three feet six inches: Queensland, Australia, Government Railway, 222 miles; railway from Congeveran to Arconum, India, 19 miles; Toronto, Grey, and Bruce Railway, Canada, 90 miles; Toronto and Nipissing Railway, Canada, 108 miles; Government Railway, of Norway, 101 miles. Locomotives used: goods engines and tender, 20 tons weight, 8 wheels, 6 of which are coupled; passenger-engines and tenders, 16 tons weight in running order, 6 wheels, 4 of which are coupled, and tank-engines, about 13 tons weight, 6 wheels, 4 of which are coupled. Rolling stock: outside width of cars vary from 6 feet 6 inches to 8 feet. The speed varies from 12 to 25 miles per hour, including stoppages. Such railways in India and Norway cost from $12,000 to $14,000 per mile, including engines, cars, and all equipments necessary. Cost of working about the same per ton as on ordinary railways.

NEW RAILROAD SCHEMES.

THERE are now pending before both branches of Congress over forty measures making positive grants of the public lands in all parts of the country west of the Mississippi and lakes to railroads, canals, and levee companies, not including several acts of incorporation, and others loaning the credit of the United States, either in the form of government bonds, or as a guarantee of the interest on those of the respective companies. It is impossible to estimate or approximate the total extent of the public domain which Congress is asked to appropriate to the railroad companies. Their requests differ from that of the modest, narrow-gauge road of Southern Utah, which only asks right of way one hundred feet wide and materias with which to construct its road-bed, to the lordly Puget Sound and Idaho corporation, which demands a capital of twenty-two millions, and sweeps half across the continent with a roadway twelve hundred feet, and a land-grant forty mile wide along the whole line. The actual state of the railroad business now before Congress, so far as it concerns the public lands, is best shown by the following exhibit, compiled from the files of both branches. There are now referred to committees of the House, chiefly that on public lands, the following bills, all asking land grants, and some charters in addition ; those in which the sale of the lands is to be restricted to actual settlers in tracts of not more than 160 acres, at not over $2.50 per acre, being designated by a star :

* No. 49.—Tennessee and Coosa Railroad, from Gunter's landing, on the Tennessee River, to Gadsden, on the Coosa. Grants the right of way and 3840 acres per mile. Transferred from act of June 3d, 1856.

No. 59.—New-Orleans and North-eastern Railroad, from New-Orleans to Meridian, Miss. Grants right of way 200 feet wide, and 12,800 acres per mile.

No. 66.—North-Louisiana and Texas Railroad, from Vicksburg, Miss., to Greenwood, on the Texas line. Extends for five years the time for the construction of the road, and transfers the land grant of June 3d, 1856.

No. 82.—Puget Sound and Idaho Railroad, from Steilacoom, via Walla Walla, Boise City, and Ogden, to Boulder City, Cal. Act of incorporation. Capital, $22,000,000. Grants right of way 1200 feet wide, with necessary lands for stations, sidings, etc., and reserves to company 256,000 acres per mile; quantity to be granted being left blank in the bill. Road must be completed by December 1st, 1878.

* No. 130.—Great Southern Railroad, from St. Mary's River, Fla., via Jacksonville, to Turtle Harbor. Grants right of way 200 feet wide, and 12,800 acres per mile; also transfers to Jacksonville, Pensacola, and Mobile Road the grant of May 17th, 1856, to aid in the construction of a road from Jacksonville to Escambia Bay.

No. 134.—Green Bay and Lake Pepin Railroad, from Green Bay, Wis., to the Mississippi River. Grants 9800 acres per mile.

Besides all these, there are other measures which will come before Congress this winter, which are worthy careful study and attention. Among these are the resolution of the Dakota delegate, which recites that, as that territory is chiefly covered with fertile but treeless plains, and has but a million acres of its public lands yet occupied, therefore the President is authorized to build a railroad to its capital; and that extensive bill of Senator Hamlin's "to secure cheap transportation of breadstuffs and provisions from the West to the seaboard at all seasons of the year" by means of a double steel track railroad from Portland to Oswego.

THE BRITISH CENSUS

A Summary of the census of England, Scotland and Ireland has now been published, and the most general facts as to increase of population are as follows :—

	Population. 1861.	Population. 1871.	Increase.	Decrease.
England	20,066,224..	22,704,108..	2,637,884..	..
Scotland	3,062,294..	3,358,613..	296,319..	..
Ireland	5,798,967..	5,402,759..	.. ..	396,208
			2,934,203
			396,208
The United Kingdom	28,927,485..	31,465,480..	2,537,995

This is the largest absolute increase of any decade in the century, and if England alone is taken, the rate of increase is almost as great as it has ever been. It is well known that the birth-rate has risen during the last decade, according to the estimates of population made by the Registrar-General. We called attention to this increase some time ago, intimating a doubt whether it was not merely apparent, caused by an under-estimate of population. But as the Registrar-General's estimates have been confirmed, the fact of the increasing birth-rate may be considered established. There is thus some probability of not only a larger increase of population during the next decade, but of a larger rate of increase, especially as the emigration from Ireland is checked.—London Economist, June, 1870.

British Emigration.—The increase of English emigration is the most noticeable fact in the report of the Emigration Commissioners for 1870, which has just been issued. The total emigration from the United Kingdom in that year was 256,940, a decrease of 1,087 as compared with 1869; but the decrease was exclusively in foreigners, the emigration of natives of the United Kingdom, and especially of England, have increased. The comparison of the two years is as follows :—

	1869.	1870.	Increase.
Emigrants from England......................	90,416	 105,293	 14,877
— Scotland......................	22,559	 22,935	 376
— Ireland......................	73,325	 74,283	 958
— the United Kingdom..........	186,300	 202,511	 16,211

Thus out of a total increase of 16,211 England counts for 14,877, and Scotland and Ireland for the remainder. England besides appears to be contributing an increasing share of the whole emigration from the United Kingdom.

RAILROADS OF THE UNITED STATES.

THE number of miles of Railroad in the United States, according to Mr. Poor, increased in 1870 from 47,254 to 53,399—a gain of 6,145 miles. Of this increase, no less than 4,004 miles, or nearly two-thirds, was in the Western States—Ohio, Michigan Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri; and in Illinois alone there was an increase of 792 miles. The States set down as having no increase are Vermont, Massachusetts, West Virginia, and Florida. But in all those States considerable work on new lines was done in 1870, even if no track was laid.

The aggregate earnings of the Roads of the United States is estimated at $450,000,000, or about $9,000 per mile. The following table shows the Railroad mileage of the United States, in each State and Territory, January 1, 1871, in comparison with the population and assessed value of property in 1870:

The Bank of England was the first Joint Stock Bank established in England, and having exclusive privileges in the Metropolis granted by Royal Charter, it continued the only Joint Stock Bank in London until 1834. At this date the London and Westminster Bank was founded, and proceeded so successfully that it was quickly followed by the formation of the London Joint Stock Bank, and the Union Bank of London. Some of the privileges claimed by the Bank of England, in opposition to the new Banks, were found, after litigation, to be untenable. The private bankers, who were very powerful, combined in their endeavors to hinder the development of their new rivals by curtailing their usefulness to the public.

The paid-up Capital of the Joint Stock Banks of London now amounts to about £41,000,000; and the nominal Capital to nearly £85,000,000.

THE BANKERS' CLEARING-HOUSE.

The Bankers' Clearing-House, near the Post Office, Lombard Street, is the medium through which Bankers obtain the amount of checks and bills in their hands for collection from other Bankers. Instead of presenting their checks at each Banking-House, and receiving cash and notes in payment, Clearing Bankers settle the whole amount delivered during the day at this establishment by receiving or paying the difference in their amount by a single check on the Bank of England. Every Bank in London and the Country is represented by Clearing Bankers, and as their agents send through the Clearing-House all drafts payable in the City and in the Country, the amount passing through this channel is enormous, the daily amounts varying from £10,000,000 to £30,000,000. The total for the year ending April 30, 1871, was £4,018,464,000, and for the year preceding £3,720,623,000. The establishment is managed by a Committee, of which Lord Wolverton is Chairman, Sir John Lubbock Hon. Sec., the acting managers being Mr. George Derbyshire, Chief Inspector, and Mr. John C. Pocock, Deputy Inspector.

Prior to 1867–8 there was no reliable data to show the exact quantity of Cotton used in either section of the United States, and we had taken the Southern Consumption by estimation, in a proportion similar to that which existed before the war. Then, Cotton was used in large quantities for other than spinning purposes, which use, however, was stopped by ruling war prices.

The National Association of Cotton Manufacturers having abandoned its work of annually collecting the statistics of this industry from the mills throughout the country (after the completion of its report at the close of 1870), this source of accurate information was not available for ascertaining the extent of the home consumption of Cotton for the year ending August 31, 1871. But by the aid of the Statistical Officers, late of that Association, we have procured returns from the principal centres of Cotton manufacturing in the country, and find they closely approximate our own Statement of Consumption. Tested by formulæ well known to the practical manufacturers, they are found in true proportions when compared with the business of the preceding years as determined by the mill returns, and the results are also sustained by the other details of the crop movement.

It appears that while last year (1869–70) the quantity of Cotton taken from the crop for home use was about 34,000 bales less than the actual consumption—the difference being supplied from the surplus brought over from the previous year—the quantity taken this year has been about 81,000 bales in excess of the actual consumption, which excess is held now as an increase of the stocks held by mills above those held August 31, 1870.

The Crop and Consumption of the United States for the past and two previous years may be stated thus:

Taken for Home use, &c.—	1868–69.	1869–70.	1870–71.

THE LAW OF NOTES AND BILLS.

Leading and Select American Cases in the Law of Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes and Checks; arranged according to Subjects, with Notes and References. By Isaac F. Redfield and M. M. Bigelow. 1871. Octavo, 760 pages. Price, $7.50.

In preparing this volume, the editors have endeavored to present the history of commercial paper throughout its usual stages; and then to illustrate such collateral branches of the general subject as are of practical importance. The cases are arranged by topics in the order of progression which bills and notes usually follow in the course of business. The cases upon collateral subjects continue through the book. The editors have aimed to present the largest possible number of valuable cases, and to illustrate as wide a range of topics as space would permit. Upon subjects involved in conflict, decisions presenting the different rulings have been selected as principal cases; and to these have been added notes citing the authorities which have followed or rejected the doctrine of the respective cases, and stating the general current of adjudication upon the subject. The preparation of the notes has been mainly the work of Mr. Bigelow; and the editors have sought to present their annotations within the narrowest compass compatible with a full illustration of the subject of the work. They, like the principal cases, are selected matter, embracing mainly the decisions which were deemed to be of practical importance to the profession. It is hoped that the selection may prove satisfactory, though it would be too much to expect that no errors of judgment have been made. The opinions in many important cases have been presented in full in the notes, in the belief that they would prove more acceptable than any annotations that could have been made. The subjects are arranged in the following order:—

I. Form and requisites of Bills.
II. Acceptance.
III. Indorsement.
IV. Holder for Value.
V. Presentment and Demand for Payment.
VI. Payment.
VII. Proceedings on Non-payment.
VIII. Excuses for Non-presentment.
IX. Actions.
X. Evidence.
XI. Discharge of Indorser or Drawer.
XII. Suretyship.
XIII. Bank-bills and other Paper taken in Payment.
XIV. Forgery.
XV. Lost Bills and Notes.
XVI. Law of Place.
XVII. Checks.

This volume comprises the most important cases before the Supreme Court of the United States and the State Courts of the last fifty years, and will be found to contain, in a condensed form, those portions of the law with which bankers are called upon to be familiar. Among the important cases, now used as precedents, were those of the Bank United States vs. Bank State of Georgia; vs. Dunn; vs. Mills; vs. Martin; vs. Sill; vs. Williams, with copious notes and references to other cases bearing upon the subjects above-named.

THE LAW OF FIRE INSURANCE.

A Treatise on the Law of Fire Insurance. By HENRY FLANDERS, Author of a "Treatise on Maritime Law," "The Law of Shipping," etc.

This work relates to subjects that are daily becoming of more importance, with the growth of our population and the extension of the benefits of insurance. And the publishers confidently commend it to the legal profession and to insurance companies as containing a full and exact statement of the principles that have been established by the American courts on that branch of the law at the date of its publication.

The Author has endeavored in this work to systematize the principles deducible from the numerous decisions of the courts upon the complex subject of fire insurance, and thus exhibit, in convenient form, the present state of that branch of the law.

The author would be grateful to his professional brethren, if, in following his footsteps, they would point out to him any defects they may chance to discover in the way, so that he may be able, in any future edition, to correct them.

The author has sought to express the results of the cases, and in so doing has employed freely the language of the reports, and, moreover, in his notes has cited at length the decisions which, in his judgment, best serve to illustrate the principles set forth in the text. He has been sparing of adverse criticism, as, in the practical business of the profession, it is more important to know what the law is, than what in the opinion of the writer it should be.

One Volume, 8vo., 620 pages. Price, $7.50.

IV. Engravings of new bank buildings in England and the United States.

☞ The engravings of new banking houses in the United States will be executed TO ORDER, and printed in the best style for the new volume. For this purpose the drawing or photograph should be in the publisher's hands by the 1st of December, 1870. Terms, $100 for the engraving and for printing six thousand copies. I. SMITH HOMANS, ESQ.—Dear Sir: Your "Manual for Notaries" is a very useful work for Banks and Notaries, and must also be a valuable assistant to the legal profession, from the fact that the indexing and arrangement are different from those of the text-books.

In preparing a brief on a question of protest lately, I found many important cases in your work which I could not find in the Digests under any heading I could think of.

Important Works for Bankers.

The Merchants and Bankers' Almanac for 1871.

One Volume Octavo, price Two Dollars.

"In Europe, numerous Almanacs are issued, devoted to special subjects, which are not ephemeral productions, but permanent and valuable contributions to the department of art, trade, industry, literature, or pleasure, to which they belong. The nearest approach in completeness to these works, which we have recently seen, is the 'MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC,' prepared by Mr. J. Smith Homans, of New York, Editor of the 'Bankers' Magazine and Statistical Register.' Besides collecting a large body of facts and figures, important to the persons to whom the volume is addressed, it is moreover a creditable specimen of neat and clear typography."—Publishers' Circular.

From a Notary Public.

To the Publisher of the Merchants and Bankers' Almanac.

"I have for several years past used THE MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC, edited by you, and have found it of great service. The Notary of every Bank should have a copy. It enables me to send Notice of Protest to the proper addresses, and by its reliability and accuracy saves the notary from all the risks which he incurs through want of proper information, difficult to obtain outside of this valuable publication.

"I would not be without it on any account.

"CHARLES H. VOORHIS, Notary of First National Bank of Jersey City."

110, BROADWAY, NEW YORK, July 3, 1867.

J. SMITH HOMANS, ESQ.,

Dear Sir,—Your manual is a very useful work for Banks and Notaries, and must also be a valuable assistant to the legal profession, from the fact that the indexing and arrangement are different to that of the text books.

"In preparing a brief on a question of protest lately, I found many important cases in your work, which I could not find in the digests under any heading I could think of.

Yours, &c., ROBERT OWEN, Notary of the Metropolitan National Bank."

From the Bank of Owega.— I enclose pay for a copy of the Merchants and Bankers' Almanac. It is a very convenient and desirable book for the cashier's desk. Those who do not get one are penny wise and $2 foolish.—E. W. WARNER, Cashier.

From the Branch Bank of Tennessee, Columbia.—"I am delighted with your Magazine, and recommend it to every banker and bank officer who deserves to succeed in his profession. I deem it indispensable to the attainment of a correct view of the principles of good banking."

From the Troy City Bank.—"I think the Bankers' Register grows more interesting as its numbers increase. It is got up with great taste, and edited with much ability. Could some of its 'SUGGESTIONS' have met my eye whilst I was indeed a 'YOUNG CASHIER,' I should have been saved much trouble and mortification, and thousands of money. God speed your invaluable work!—S. K. STOW, Cashier."

The Merchants and Bankers' Almanac. J. Smith Homans.—"It is difficult to imagine a more useful or convenient appendage to any office, in which exchange and money transactions fall within the line of business. The amount, indeed, of valuable information is great, and its arrangement most judicious, and there are some bits of knowledge that we do not remember to have seen in previous publications. Thus, within the compass of thirty pages, is a summary of the laws of each State respecting interest and usury, and elsewhere a list of private bankers in the principal cities and towns of the United States and Canada. Perhaps our eye more naturally wanders to the copious statistics of Great Britain; but the truth is, there is something to be gleaned from every page."—N. Y. Albion.

The Merchants and Bankers' Almanac.—"For a merchant, a mechanic or a farmer, to make himself acquainted with the financial affairs of our country and the world, has heretofore been thought waste time, or about as important as the study of architecture, medicine, or Greek and Hebrew; but let any business-man look over the MERCHANTS AND BANKERS' ALMANAC, published by J. Smith Homans, 70, Wall Street, and he will soon be satisfied that a practical use can be made of the valuable information therein contained. It furnishes a financial review of the past year; a list of all the Banks and Bankers in the country; a statistical history of Great Britain for the past fifty years; a statement of the revenue, expenditures and public debt of the United States; many statistical tables, etc., etc. One volume, octavo, 200 pages."—N. Y. Independent.

THE STANDARD
PRACTICAL WORK ON BANKING.

Gilbart's Principles and Practice of Banking.

THOROUGHLY REVISED AND BROUGHT DOWN TO THE PRESENT TIME.

London Edition, 1871. 1 Vol., 8vo., Cloth, $6.50.

This important Treatise has long been considered the Standard Work on Banking, and to increase its reputation and utility the proprietors have had it thoroughly revised and adapted to the practice of the present day. They have also prefixed the author's Treatise on the "PRINCIPLES AND HISTORY OF BANKING," so as to make it the most valuable Text Book on the subject extant.

A glance at the contents, as subjoined, will show that every detail of interest to the Merchant or Banker is explained, as well as the principles on which banking transactions are founded. The laws relating to banking are also briefly set forth—and the whole subject, including details of the Practice of the Banking Clearing House and the Collection of Bills of Exchange and Country Cheques, has been so clearly explained, that the work is undoubtedly a most useful companion for the practical banker, or the Clerk who desires to understand the business of Banking, and the Merchant, Tradesman or Politician, who is desirous of knowing how such an important branch of the Commerce of the Country is conducted.

☞ "'THE LIVING AGE' has no equal in any country." — From the Press, Philadelphia.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE,

Of which more than One Hundred Volumes have been published, has received the commendation of the most eminent men of the country; and it admittedly "continues to stand at the head of its class."

IT IS ISSUED EVERY SATURDAY, giving fifty-two numbers, of sixty-four pages each, or more than Three Thousand double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly; enabling it to present with a combined freshness and completeness nowhere else attempted,

The best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Serial and Short Stories, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, gathered from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

The ablest and most cultured intellects in every department of Literature, Politics, Science, and Art, find expression in the Periodical Literature of Europe, and especially of Great Britain.

The Living Age, forming four large volumes a year, furnishes, from the vast and generally inaccessible mass of this literature, the only compilation that, while within the reach of all, is satisfactory in the COMPLETENESS with which it embraces whatever is of immediate interest, or of solid, permanent value.

It is therefore indispensable to every one who wishes to keep pace with the events or intellectual progress of the time, or to cultivate in himself or his family general intelligence and literary taste.

Extracts from Recent Notices.

From Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

"Were I, in view of all the competitors that are now in the field, to choose, I should certainly choose 'THE LIVING AGE.' . . . Nor is there in any library that I know of, so much instructive and entertaining reading in the same number of volumes."

From the Congregationalist, Boston.

"None of the eclectics can be matched with this as to substantial value and interest."

From the New-York Evening Post.

"The editors permit nothing good in the whole range of the European magazines and reviews to escape them. . . . In no other single publication can there be found so much of sterling literary excellence."

From the Boston Post.

"It gives to its readers more than three thousand double-column octavo pages a year, of the most valuable, instructive, and entertaining reading of the day. 'History, biography, fiction, poetry, wit, science, politics, criticism, art, — what is not here?' It is the only compilation that presents with a satisfactory completeness, as well as freshness, the best literature of the almost innumerable, and generally inaccessible, European quarterlies, monthlies, and weeklies, — a literature embracing the productions of the ablest and most cultured writers living."

From the Williams Quarterly.

"It is inexhaustible. It has as much that is good as a dozen ordinary magazines combined."

From the Advance, Chicago.

"For thinking people, the best of all the eclectic publications, and the cheapest. . . . It is a monthly that comes every week."

From the Lutheran and Missionary, Phila.

"An extraordinary value marks many of the articles of this publication, because they are the productions of the ablest men of our times."

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"The most admirable thesaurus of current reading now collected in any country."

From the Illinois State Journal.

"It has more real solid worth, more useful information, than any similar publication we know of. The ablest essays, the most entertaining stories, the finest poetry, of the English language, are here gathered together."

From the Milwaukie Daily Sentinel.

"More than ever indispensable, in these days of frequent publication in expensive English reviews, of articles on the great questions of current inquiry, by such men as Max Muller, Huxley, Tyndall, and many others."

From the Mobile Daily Register.

"Still peerless among periodicals in value to the reader."

From the Pacific, San Francisco.

"Its publication in weekly numbers gives to it a great advantage over its monthly contemporaries in the spirit and freshness of its contents."

From the Chicago Daily Republican.

"It occupies a field filled by no other periodical. The subscriber to 'LITTELL' finds himself in possession at the end of the year, of four large volumes of such reading as can be obtained in no other form, and comprising selections from every department of science, art, philosophy, and belles-lettres. Those who desire a THOROUGH COMPENDIUM of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world will be spared the trouble of wading through the sea of reviews and magazines published abroad; for they will find the essence of all compacted and concentrated here."

From the Christian Examiner, Richmond.

"The great eclectic of this country."

Published weekly at $8,00 a year, free of postage. An extra copy sent gratis to any one getting up a Club of five New Subscribers. Address

THE PREMIUM ON GOLD.

A VALUABLE BOOK FOR BANKERS AND BROKERS.

Towers' Premium Tables for Buying and Selling Gold, Bonds and Stocks. Giving the premium on any amount from one dollar to ten thousand dollars, from one-eighth of one per cent. to twenty-five and seven-eighths per cent. Price three dollars.

These tables are admirably adapted for use by bankers and brokers. For instance, by turning to page marked 11 per cent. we find the premium on $19 in gold at 11⅞ per cent. to be $2.25⅝, or for $190, by adding the cipher, we have $22.56; or if we want to sell a $5,000 bond at 13⅝ per cent. premium, we have $5,681.25-100 as the result.

It also gives the discount from par to 74⅞ per cent. by one-eighth per cent. And if the interest is required on $400 for one year at 9½ per cent. per annum, we have $38, or for 60 days one-sixth of $38.

The publishers have received high commendations from New York Banks and others, which is proven by their not only using one copy but purchasing extra copies for several clerks.

"Many excellent works on Banking, and a still greater number of articles on Banking, in magazines and other periodical publications, have appeared in America. We have before us one of no common merit. It is entitled 'A Treatise on Banking—The Duties of a Banker, and his Personal Requisites therefor. By A. B. JOHNSON, President of the Ontario Branch Bank, at Utica, in the State of New York.' The first part—'The Bank'—contains a clear exposition of some important principles of Banking and Currency, and a comparison between the Safety Fund System and the Free Bank System, established in New York. The second part—'The Banker'—is of a highly practical character; and it shows that however widely the banks of England and America may differ in their principles, the fields of their operations, their constitutions, and their privileges, yet the practical operations, the qualifications of their bankers, the dangers to which they are exposed, and the means necessary to success, are much the same in both countries."—London Bankers' Magazine.

RAILROAD COMPANIES.—This subject fills seventy-three pages. The charter and franchises of these companies; their peculiar powers, duties, and liabilities in respect to acquiring lands, and to the construction and maintenance of their roads; railway mortgages; railway officers; the rules governing the peculiar traffic of these companies; and the application of the doctrine of negligence, are all separately presented.

Not only is this volume adapted to the use of members of the legal profession, but the publishers confidently believe it will be everywhere welcomed as a reliable work of reference for presidents, secretaries, treasurers, and directors of corporations; and it will prove to be a needful aid in the board room, as well as an adviser at the desk of the cashier and actuary.

Officers of the various corporations will find, in addition to the general topics relating to all kinds of corporations in common, a special chapter treating of the particular class of Companies in which they are interested.

FOR SAVINGS BANKS.

A LAW MANUAL FOR NOTARIES PUBLIC AND BANKERS.—Mr. J. Smith Homans, of the Bankers' Magazine, has published an important work with the above heading. It includes a summary of the law and principles of commercial paper. The law of indorsement, negotiability, demand and protest, and the history of bills of exchange, with recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court and of the courts of several States in reference to bills and notes: to which is added a summary of the law of each State as to the of interest and to damages on protested bills of exchange, with the latest forms of protest and notices of protest. Notaries, cashiers, bank clerks, and express men, should study this manual carefully, and they may thereby save themselves much trouble and loss. They will find it much better to have the knowledge themselves than to depend on the hasty opinion of a lawyer, who may not have on hand the best "authorities" or the decisions and statutes of the different States. Every commercial lawyer, however, will find the Manual an invaluable digest, and save him from wading through much extraneous matter in seeking its information in other quarters.—New York World, Sept. 14, 1867.

The New and Improved Edition of M'CULLOCH'S COMMERCIAL DICTIONARY, as revised and brought down to the present time.

From the time of the first publication, now nearly half a century ago, this great work has held its place without a rival among works of its class, as well for the fullness as for the accuracy of the information which it gives in every branch of Commercial Science. As successive editions have been called for, the work has undergone thorough revision and extensive enlargement, and advantage has again been taken of the fact that the work had run out of print—the last edition having been issued in 1859—to make still further additions and emendations. In its present form the volume covers over 1600 closely printed pages, in double columns, with the different subjects arranged alphabetically, and it has been reset throughout. The work contains:

1.—Accounts of the various Articles which form the subject matter of Commercial Transactions.
2. A General Article on Commerce.
3. Articles on Commercial Navigation, and the various devices and means that have been adopted for extending and facilitating Commerce.
